

Classical: NEXT

"The perfect point from which to look into the future of classical music."

- Daniel Hope, violinist

The annual, global networking and exchange hub dedicated exclusively to classical and art music, for all professionals – artists, managers, presenters, orchestras, labels, educators, press, media, publishers.

Get together with over 1,300 professionals from more than 45 countries worldwide.

When & where?

18 – 21 May 2020

de Doelen Concert Hall & Conference Centre
Rotterdam, the Netherlands

"I see Classical:NEXT as a nexus, a hub where everyone from all over the world who is doing something relevant to classical music come together in one point and to get together and reignite that passion and refuel again before going out towards the ends of the world to do what they are so passionate about."

- Veronica Neo, primephonic

Why attend?

- Gathering the global community of classical music professionals
- Investigating future paths forward both in creative and economical aspects
- Offering an open platform customised to your needs and ideas

Meet new contacts from all sectors of the classical music world at the Expo to form new cooperations and projects. Travel the world without leaving the expo hall at what International Arts Manager Magazine calls the "Music Olympics".

The Conference offers new perspectives on the bigger picture as well as take-home knowledge in interactive sessions and one-to-one mentoring. Get up-to-date and future-oriented in areas such as communication and PR, new tech, alternative concert programming, audience engagement, the relevance of classical music, emerging business models and much more.

Showcases and Project Pitches feature unorthodox approaches to traditional repertoire as well as accessible, high-quality contemporary compositions to add a spark to any concert season. Classical:NEXT aims to become a leading, annual showplace for presenting and discovering such work.
